ing. The mere fact that some of the dreamers walk and talk very actively in their sleep does not exclude them from the latter class. There is, to be sure, place for genins anywhere. The few dreamers whose dreams are lighted with the fire of genius are their own justification. In book, in picture, in music or in speech, they open up new vistas and uncover new ideals. One such genius, in a brilliant "apercu," may reveal the prophecy of a nation or an age.

But even genius is more useful if it is in the practical class. One Luther is worth a thousand Amiels, one Darwin a hundred Schopenhauers. And among lesser men the

The in-spired enthusiast, who cannot even drawn coherently. dream coherently and cannot do at all, is most useless. The evil of the world is eminently practical. The inertia of the world, which is the majority of mankind, is even more fixedly practical. The reform which will affect either must be inspired by ideals, but it must be guided by common sense and operated by practical capacity. The reformer must know what to do, which is the ideal, and how do it, which is the practical and then he must go do it, which is the reality.

Woolwine Move to Inject Booze Question Beside Mark, Says Nominee

In clear-cut fashion, Friend W. Richardson, Republican nominee for governor, in giving to the Orange County Bar association at James's cafe here last night, an outline of his campaign platform, declared that although his oppo-nent, Thomas L. Woolwine, Democratic nominee, had endeavored to inject the wet and dry question into the campaign as a legitimate issue, economy in state government remains the main issue, and almost the only issue, in the campaign.

Richardson was introduced by the association president, Attorney H. S. Head, long a Democratic leader in this county, and in in-troducing Richardson, Head re-brought up a moral issue that is important. He has offered himself as one encouraging law-breaking, and the issue is there-fore a moral issue. Therefore, Mr. Richardson, I find that this campaign is not a question of party, but a question of morals, and I am Yankee Owners Fine Swat King

"My opponent," said Richardson, has intimated that if he is governor he will do something to allow the legitimate sale of light wine and beers. As a matter of fact, the question of legalizing liquor is entirely out of the hands of the governor. The enactments are entirely federal. "I think the people of this state know how I stand on the wet and dry question. I opposed saloons in San Bernardino years aog when every other place of business was a saloon. I have always been dry.

"My campaign today is based on the same issue that was used in my primary campaign—economy. When the cost of government has increased in this state as it has, it is time to call a

"I have no obligation to any group of men, to no corporation or corporations. I shall live up to my pledge to seek economy. It is not important that I be governor, so much as it is important that whoever is elected shall take the office free from control of any boss or business and with the right attitude toward the rights of the taxpayers of the state."

Richardson arrived in Santa Ana last night from San Diego, accompanied by John King, editor of the Hemet News, a Dem ocratic paper that is supporting Richardson, and Justus F. Crae-King was called upon for remarks. "In this campaign," he said,

His companion, a youth named O'Rooke, was arrested in San Diego, after the authorities claim they had discovered a small porition of the loot in a pawn shop.

It was expected that the boy held by the Orange county authorities would have the bulk of the gems in his possession, but when he was searched at the jail, no trace of them was found. Only $8 in cash was found on

After much questioning, the boy admitted that "he knew who robbed the lady," officers say.

Then, this morning, just before he was taken back to San Diego to face the charges against him, he is said to have confessed to his connection with the robhere. All efforts, however, to re-cover the jewels, or to learn their

CRIPPLE WHO STOLE BEANS HELD IN JAIL

Ernest Singer, itinerant, found guilty of stealing eight sacks of beans from the Irvine ranch, today began a six months' sentence in the county jail. He paid a fine of $100 in addition.

Singer, one of whose limbs is amputated at the knee, and who, despite his general appearance of shabbiness and extreme poverty, is said to have money and possessions in virtually every city in California, was arrested several weeks ago, after the 800 pounds of beans had been found in his buggy by Constable Clark, of San Juan Capistrano.

Capistrano.
Singer denied having stolen the beans, but witnesses identifying them and tracing the defendant's movements, convinced the court of his guilt.

I also hope that when you find out this is going to be a warning you will read on and heed it anyway.

It is in regard to the last time you let your car run up to the curb with full force. I heard that the tire was mashed clear to the rim.

I know that you are generally in the habit of driving up slower but you might have done considerable damage just that once. Not so much on the tire then but you might have gotten your wheel out of alignment—and you know how fast that whittles the rubber off. I would be careful about that, and if you remember it I know you will be glad I told you.

Stocks, Markets and Financial News

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.- Grain prices advanced sharply on the Chicago board of trade today.

It was the greatest bullish demonstration in many weeks and was a result of heavy buying by eastern exporters and local shipping interests. Everybody was asking for grain and car shortages on the railroads made it practically impossible to meet the demand.

Wheat was the market leader but other grains followed with-out opposition.

Provisions closed steady.

This is largely due to the all steel bodythe first ever marketed-which admits of lower cost of manufacture through standardized machine production. Its Dependability Proves Type 61 the Greatest Cadillac

With more than 15,000 of the Type 61 already in use, owners of the car are unanimous in acclaiming it the greatest Cadillac ever produced.

Factory Service on the Type 61 for the first nine months has been less than one-third of that required by any previous new Cadillac in a like period.

The one fact upon which owners seize, and ardently emphasize, and recur to again and again, is the new Cadillac's amazing dependability, which they insist has never been equalled or approached before, even by the fine Cadillac forerunners.

What bears them out in this verdict, and establishes completely Type 61 preeminence, is the fact that all former production schedules have been exceeded and that numerous cities report the largest Cadillac sales in their history.

Whittier high, conqueror of Inglewood and Montebello, was an unknown quantity. At the Guaker city they think they have a championship team in the making. Attaches of the institution who accompanied the Whittier 130-pounds team here last night, declared that today's fray will decide the Orange league championship. It was between Whittier and Santa Ana, they claimed. Fullerton was not considered.

"If Whittier can stand up against Morrison's heavy line, the Poets will win," one of the visitors here yesterday said. "We have a light, fast team that will outspeed Santa Ana but your heavy line may bear us down. It will be a close game with not more than two touchdowns either way."

PLANS NO. 1870-1871

Surely you will like this ideal little home plan, for it represents so many carefully worked out details that you have seen in homes costing thousands of dollars. It is not only attractive but just as practical as can be and the alternate floor plans offer such a variety of arrangements and conveniences, one of them will care for your needs.

Always we are endeavoring to submit for your consideration plans that will convey practical ideas and ones that you can adopt to build from, and we will welcome the opportunity of writing you fully about any of the homes illustrated on these pages.

HOMES, MORE HOMES, BETTER HOMES—These are the slogans of today. They are setting the American people to thinking as they never have in the past. We even have a national "Better Homes Week" once a year to impress upon us the importance of having a home of Our Own, and making that home the very best possible.

There is no question about it—the dearest spot on earth to you is home—for it is there you expect to spend at least the greater portion of your life; there the children will be born and live to maturity, and should be reared 'mid ideal surroundings; there the beloved wife will devote the principal part of her time while you are at business and while the kiddies are at school. Your new home is going to represent the fulfillment of so much in word life.

Your new home is going to represent the fulfillment of so much in your life, it is wisdom for you to be careful in choosing the location, the plans, the building materials, and its furnishings.

Location plays a large part in the establishment of a successful home; among the things which should be considered are the character and desirability of the neighborhood. A thousand dollars difference in the price of a lot often spells the difference between a neighborhood which is bound to run down in time and one which will improve with years. Schools, churches, playgrounds, library and transportation services are other conveniences which are inseparable from the desirable home of today.

The size and style of home will depend entirely upon individual tastes, requirements and investment. The bungalow created in various designs to meet climate and building conditions, has in recent years proven itself America's most popular architecture and, because of their inexpensive construction costs, conveniences and adaptability for any location, they are rightfully entitled to the proud position they occupy. The two-story home, however, is and always will be, adopted by those whose requirements call for a large number of rooms in housing their own families, friends and relatives.

The furnishings of the dearest place on earth should be the subject of much careful thought. A play-room for the kiddies, with a place for toys when not in use. The home library with book shelves or cabinets. The wife should be the one to furnish the bedrooms, also the bathroom. She will take an intense interest and realize a great joy in making these "intimate" rooms places of daintiness and beauty. Living-room dining-room, breakfast nook, den and library should be planned for service, and should be decorated to harmonize, and have hardwood floors if possible.

And then the lawn and the flower garden and the back yard, with shade and fruit trees and roses and vines climbing the side of house and garage—ah, there's much in the making of a home, and you will grow into it naturally when you have once made a start.

Have You a Home of Your Own? If not now—today—is the time to take the first steps. This series of Home Building articles has been secured in order to inspire you to home-owning and to aid you in choosing just the plan in meeting all of your requirements.

Here are the names of a number of the progressive men and enterprising business firms who are making Santa Ana a more beautiful and desirable city in which to live. They are expending the money necessary to bring this weekly message to you, because they are interested in your future success. Some of them you will recognize as your personal friends and their advice is "Build your own home." They suggest that you write to our "Home Building Editor," care this paper, for information which will pay you.

Now listen, th's house with small expense can be made into 2 4-room apts, one could easily have an income of over $250 per mo. Now if interested in a large home or income, come in and talk this over. his burns "Buster" is a picture of dejection. Most of the time he basks in the sunlight in front of his "boss's" place of business, and muses on the ways of hornets, and the habits of bubbling hot springs.

Buster was once fond of hornets.
That was before he attempted to play games with them in the long grass about the pools at Murietta. His aversion began when he took up a chase after a big, droning yellow jacket and amused himself by snapping and growling at the hornet. Apparently the hornet liked the game for he followed "Buster" and "tagged" him. Then he called on his fellows and they all "tagged" "Buster."

The dog ran for the nearest pool of water and plunged in. The boil-ing spring was scant comfort to his tortured body and he sprang out, racing in the direction of friends and promised safety.

"Buster" nearly died that night from his burns and for days his life was despaired of. But he fought persistently and now the crisis is passed, and "Buster" lives to play and romp in the tall grass, but never again to frolic with a swarm of yellow jacket hornets.

This may ation. be wise, for many a slow student has proved more necessary or lavish appropriations countenanced by worth while to society eventually than his more brilliant fellows. But it points to the fact that many to which it may readily be adapted is not going students have never learned how to study before they reached college and so have missed the main purpose sections are purchased for this same purpose. of public school education.

This is not a matter of "homework" entirely. Students who have to prepare all their lessons in school know better how to study than those who are required to perform long tasks outside. It is a matter of learning to get to work promptly, to concentrate on the job in hand, to stick to it until it is

Parents can help greatly by setting small home tasks and requiring their accomplishment with dispatch, undivided attention and accuracy. If home work is required by the school, the child should have a proper place, good light and regular, uninterrupted that time in which to do it.

The child who has not the chance to go to college needs training in how to study quite as much as the one who has the greater opportunity.

Opportunity is in the individual. Geographical location has very little to do with it, and geographical onditons can be changed. That is why Orange county is growing.

There is recognition on all sides of the relation that foreign conditions bear to our own prosperity and future welfare and a growing disposition to play as large a part as can properly be played in international affairs.

This purpose is primarily practical, intended for the protection of American interests. But it is also idealistic, because America can not participate in international councils without using her influence for measures beneficial to the rest of the world.

If every industry and every citizen would do their part in eliminating fire hazards and extending the idea of fire prevention, the national fire losses could be reduced hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

MARBLES AND CHARACTER

Much attention was attracted last summer by a marble playing contest held at Jersey City, N. under the direction of the park and playground authorities. Five thousand boys entered. Rules and regulations were established. The contest attracted intense interest. Later the winner Charles Rech, played the champion of the city of Washington and now claims the world championship.

The idea was started because it was noticed how the boys were quarreling over their marble games. By establishing regular rules and requiring sportsman like conduct, they were taught to play fair and conduct themselves in a gentlemanly manner. Here is a means by which the boys of Santa Ana could be given some early lessons in clean athletics and honorable conduct.

The Agricultural School

There are communities in Southern California that are offering immense acreages for a proposed agricultural college in Southern California. Some of these have every appearance of being for real estate purposes. One is said to have $1,000,000 in cash attached to the offer. Others are purely community promotion plans. There is an Orange county site suggested, another in San Fernando valley, a third near Arcadia, and the Palos Verdes Estates proposes the great southern university site, which has been given so much advertising at different times during the past year.

All of these communities that are offering sites for a Southern university, college of agriculture or farm school of some kind, are working in the Many young men will let their parents feed them dark. Farm Production Value

Pasadena Star-News The American farm, this year, has produced enormously, and the grand total yield, while perhaps not so great in bushels and pounds as in some former years, yet is hundreds of millions of dollars more valuable, in marketable proceeds, than last year's crop.

This is a very promisin gsituation. It means a vast deal to the whole country. Put hundreds of millions of dollars additional to the usual income from crops into the hands of American farmers, and means very generous spending. It means the liquidation of many farm mortgages. It means the more liberal buying, by farmers, of merchandise and manufactured articles. It means, in a word, the loosing of vast sums into the channels of trade and industry. This will mean great impetus to conditions which promise prosperity. When the farmer prospers, other classes thrive.

Editorial Shorts

The report of the state superintendent of banks shows that California has increased in bank reources almost a billion dollars in the last five years. That is an astounding statement, one it is hard to comprehend. But, in the language of the street, "it speaks a mouthful" as to the development of the Golden State. Not only are we the "White Spot" commercially of the nation, but we are growing so fast we will soon be a leader in all those things that go to make for a very important commercial center.—Redlands Facts.

THERE IS A BEAUTY THAT THE OLD PUT ON. There is a beauty that the old put on That even youth, in all its pride of joy,

May not surpass. The radiance of dawn Is theirs no more, but Time cannot destroy The miracle of light that shines from eyes

Where old dreams linger, nor deny the grace Of worn hands folded; nor can years disguise Remembered laughter on each quiet face. Theirs is the beauty that old houses wear,

Moss-grown and gray; and theirs the quaint appeal Of bells at sunset, or a saint at prayer. They are as beautiful and as unreal

As phantom words, once heard, that still elude; Or twilight falling through a dim, sweet wood.
